TRADE.

Only a moderate share of business was transacted to-day in our general markets, and prices throughout the whole catalogue of staple articles are unsettled. This particularly so with regard to meats. On this subject a Chicago circular says: In the early part of the week an excite-ment was gotten up both in the heg and provision markets, and the drovers anticipating a considerable advance in prices, had their hogs (which had been crowding the pens during most of the previous week and were almost unsalable; drive to the various packing-houses and slaughtered, and stored there for their account. Most of the bogs are still held there, the shipments of dressed hogs being but few more than the receipts. The drayers have been disappointed in the anticipated advance, as the receipts of live hogs, though very light, have been more than sufficient for the demand, and the market for the last few days has been dull and declining. The fact of the mat-ler is, the business has been sadly mismanaged throughout, and the cu-pidity of the packers and operators has destroyed their only chance of success, All through the season the farmers have been the only class benefitted, and even in the late decline they will be mere triv-A. H. BOYD. F. N. WHITE. I. N. DAVIS ial sufferers, as the hogs have been chiefly contracted ahead to the drovers. It is not difficult to realize the probability that with corn at 70c in Chicago, and wheat 78 (ask:, only worth to the farmers 250,30c at their homes, with other grains in propor-tion, and a large supply of young bogs, their attention will be turned to feeding, and the stock be most realously and ex-fully watched over. Such, so far as t ed on, is the case at present. The farm are feeding their corn, wheat, rye, oats and barley to their hogs indiscriminately, having the grain ground and belied for them, and everyone is aware how hogs fasten under this treatment. The triffing falling off in the packing to the present time excites the bope of the uninitiated, who have passed this but lew seasons, and who fancy that the success of the past season must necessarily be reproduced in the present. But old and prudent operators view the existing state of affairs and the current prices with dismay. They cannot bind themselves to the fact that the high prices in the early part of the season countries.

The South, our principal consuming customer, is teening with letters to newspapers, editorials and handbills, calling on the people to abstain from the use of hog products at any such prices as $30(5.82 per barrel.
